Cookies are small text files, that like most of them on the web servers are placed on your device which was used to access our website. This is done to give you an improvised browsing experience during that visit, or your future access to our website.

Types of Cookies Used:

Session Cookie:

Session cookies remain only as long as a browsing session is active, and are intended to avoid user inconvenience during browsing. These cookies will allow the website to link the actions of the user during a browsing session and expire at the end of the browsing session. Session cookies also assist the user in navigating the website, and allow the user to access the secure parts of the website.

Persistent Cookie:

Persistent Cookies are stored on a user's device even after termination of the browsing session. It helps in recalling the preferences or actions of the user. Persistent cookies are used for a variety of purposes such as retaining the visitor's language and regional preference(s) at the end of each browsing session. We use the services of third-party analytics service providers to analyze cookies to carry out a behavioral analysis in order to enhance user experience and convenience, and also to provide targeted and relevant content to visitors. Depending on the type of settings of your browser cookies may be accepted by default. You may change the settings of your browser to delete the existing cookies or prevent future cookies from being automatically accepted. If you disable cookies, certain parts and functions of our website may not be available. You can delete all the cookies that are already on your browser by clearing its browsing history.

Cookie Retention:

Information collected via cookies (other than the third party cookies) will be retained for a maximum period of 2 years. Retention period of third-party cookies is mentioned in their Privacy/Cookie Policy.
